Is the perpetrator a parent, immediate family member, member of the child’s household, paramour of the parent or person responsible for the child’s welfare (ex. teacher, babysitter)?

- YES
  - REQUIRED: If the student is under 18, call the DCFS Hotline (1-800-25-ABUSE, 1-800-252-2873). Do not notify the parent or guardian of the call. Supervisor notification is at the discretion of the reporter.
  - REQUIRED: Do not allow the student to go home until the DCFS investigator arrives. Make arrangements for a staff member to stay with the student if the investigator has not arrived by school dismissal. This could be the Principal if s/he is informed.
  - Consult the Resource Guide for information you may consider sharing with the student about long-term support services.

- NO
  - Did an assault occur in the last 7 days?
    - YES
      - Consult the Resource Guide for information you may consider sharing with the student about going to the emergency room for treatment and/or evidence collection. The student does not need parental consent and can obtain treatment at no cost. The Resource Guide indicates which hospitals have Medical Advocacy.
      - If student is not interested in going to the ER, consult the Resource Guide for information you may consider sharing about medical care options such as screening for STIs or pregnancy testing.
    - NO
      - Consult the Resource Guide for information you may consider sharing with the student about legal options, such as calling police to make a report or contacting a legal advocate at a community based organization.
      - Consult the Resource Guide for information you may consider sharing with the student about medical care options such as screening for STIs or pregnancy testing.

Is the perpetrator a CPS student?

- YES
  - REQUIRED: Inform your school’s Principal, who will investigate and respond in accordance with the CPS Student Code of Conduct and with supports for the student.
  - Consult the Resource Guide for information you may consider sharing with the student about long-term support services.

- NO
  - Students of all ages can receive counseling services for sexual assault from a CPS social worker, counselor, or psychologist without parental notification or consent.
  - Students 12-17 may receive five counseling sessions from community based organizations without parental notification or consent.
  - Consult the Resource Guide for information you may consider sharing with the student about long-term support services.